3. Have the title of their client money bank account easily distinguished from other accounts of their firm with the words 'client account' clearly stated
4. Have written confirmation from their bank(s) that all client money is held by your firm as a trustee and that the bank is not entitled to combine the client money account(s) with any other account, or to exercise any right of set-off or counterclaim against money in that account, in respect of any sum owed to it on any other account by the firm
5. Have and maintain relevant systems and controls which allow you to monitor and manage client money transactions and any credit risk arising, including but not limited to regular internal account audits
6. Have accounting systems and client data securely controlled and protected
7. Have clients' written approval to make payments from their accounts
8. Pay any client money inadvertently paid into the firms business account into the firms designated client money bank account within three business days of the money being received by the firm

11. Make sure that all procedures for handling client money are complied with and clearly written down and provided to your clients, free of charge, preferably in your terms of business or management agreement
12. Reconcile client accounts together with bank and cash balances at regular intervals, to demonstrate control over the accuracy and completeness of accounting records
13. Make sure there are sufficient funds in the client account to pay amounts owing to clients as they fall due under the members' terms and conditions of engagement with the client
14. Repay any client money without delay, including where feasible, any interest earned, where there is no longer any reason to hold that money, or the client requests it

We reserve the right to request evidence of compliance with these client money handling procedures.

If client money relating to your residential lettings business is held in the same account as client money relating to any commercial lettings business and/or block management you carry out, you must:

- Provide Client Money Protect, when applying for scheme membership and then, on an annual basis (at renewal) with a client money audit specifically relating to your residential lettings business

G. Membership disciplinary

G.1 Audits and risk assessment

- You agreeing to comply with all our reasonable requests in relation to a risk assessment
- At the very least, us carrying out a credit reference (with on-going monitoring)
- Us requesting evidence that the client money accounts are maintained
- The possibility of an unannounced visit to your trading address for the required information

G.2 Breach of scheme rules, suspension and cancellation of membership

There are certain situations which may result in us sending you notice, in writing, to suspend your membership, which if not resolved, may lead to your membership being cancelled. These include:

1. Non-payment of any fees or other money we request which are due
2. Any statement you made, or information given, which we discover is a misrepresentation or fraudulent in relation to your membership
3. Not complying with an audit or pass a risk assessment we carry out
4. Aggressive or abusive behaviour to any of our officers or staff
5. A member who is subject to a financial judgement, or the appointment of a liquidator or Law of Property Act (LPA) receiver over properties protected

7. An individual, becoming or being declared bankrupt, insolvent, or convening a meeting of or making or proposing to make any arrangement with creditors

G.3 What happens if your membership is cancelled or expires?

G. Membership disciplinary

G.4 If you cancel your membership?

You may cancel your membership at any time by:

- Sending us written notice, unless any compensation claims have been received
- Proving that you no longer hold client money or
- That you have joined another approved client money protection scheme

You will not be entitled to a refund of any membership fees following cancellation of membership.

G.5 If we cancel your membership?

Your membership may be cancelled for:

- Any material non-disclosure
- Misrepresentations by you or
- An adverse audit result

We will send you notice in writing explaining the breach and reasons for our decision. If the breach is remedied, we may agree to re-instate the membership. Our decision will be final and cannot be challenged.

Where we cancel or remove a member from the scheme for breaching these rules, we may display the member's company on our cancelled agents list, which is a public page on our website.

H. Consumer compensation claims

H.1 How does it work?

Client money protection insurance is a specific insurance which protects landlords and tenants' money against theft or misappropriation by the owners of the member agent, while it is in their custody or control. These are usually rent payments and tenants' deposits but may also include money held for repairs and maintenance to the property.

We do not act on behalf of the member agent but are an independent membership body providing protection of the client money held by our members and insuring the liability for paying out any claims.

In the event that the owners of the business misappropriate any of the client money leading to the insolvency of the agent, the agent's clients can contact us and make a compensation claim against the agent. If we accept a genuine claim, we will recompense the landlord and/or tenant and take the necessary action to recover the money from the agent or its owners.

As a landlord you should check your bank statements regularly to make sure you have received all rent payments from your agent in line with your contract agreement. If any rent payments are missed you should contact your agent immediately to resolve the matter. If you are unable to contact the agent and you suspect they have ceased trading you should report the theft to the local police and arrange for the tenant to pay future rent directly to you.

H.2 Conditions for making claims

We can only accept claims:

1. Relating to residential tenancies
2. Relating to theft of your money
3. Relating to tenant(s) deposits where the deposit was never protected in an authorised tenancy deposit protection scheme
4. If the agent is a member and/or the misappropriation occurred during the member's membership period
5. Where the agent appears to no longer be trading
6. If the person making a claim has informed the police of the theft and has a crime reference number
7. Where the person claiming has taken steps to help minimise their loss
8. Made within 12 months from the date we were first notified of the member's misappropriation of client money.

As client money claims relate to a criminal offence there are additional processes that need to be carried out which are sometimes out of our control, so the length of time it takes to complete an application will depend on the information provided to us.

Where the client money disputes relate to deposits protected by an authorised tenancy deposit protection scheme, these disputes must be raised with that scheme and their resolution services first.

H. Consumer compensation claims

H.3 How to make a claim

1. Check here www.clientmoneyprotect.co.uk/propertyagent/members to see if your agent is a member of Client Money Protect
2. Visit www.clientmoneyprotect.co.uk/claim for information on how to raise a claim including our guide to making a claim
3. Raise any concerns you have with your agent first. If you are still unhappy or get no response, then please contact us
4. To make a compensation claim, you will need to provide the following:
 - A completed compensation claim form which you can download at www.clientmoneyprotect.co.uk/claim

All relevant evidence, such as:

- A copy of your tenancy agreement
- A copy of the terms of business with the agent
- A copy of your bank statements showing rental payments coming into your account and then no longer being made
- A copy of the tenant's bank statements or evidence from the tenant showing the missed rental payments which have been made
- Evidence of a deposit being paid and re-protected (if applicable)

I. Exclusions

We will only investigate claims/complaints relating to the misappropriation of client money and reserve the right to pass all other claims/complaints to the relevant redress scheme or advise the consumer to go to court.

We will decline claims:

1. When a landlord has entered into a guaranteed rent or rent to rent type arrangement. This is a commercial arrangement between the parties and the rent, which should be paid to the landlord is not client money
2. Relating to a client money dispute where the money continues to be held securely by the member or has been returned to the client
3. Relating to deposits taken on tenancies that are protected by an authorised tenancy deposit protection scheme ("security deposits") unless that scheme is unable to pay the consumer what is due because of restrictions on their scheme rules, or the cover they offered has been used up
4. Relating to misappropriation or theft of client money by employees of the member's company. This should be covered by the member's professional indemnity policy, unless the policy limit has been exhausted or the insurers of that policy refuse to settle a claim
5. Which are received after the 365 day notification period has ended
6. Where the misappropriation occurred outside of the agent's subscription period
7. Arising from war, terrorism, confiscation or nuclear risks
8. Where the claimant is unable to provide the relevant claim documentation

J: Subrogation and recoveries

1. Once a consumer has been compensated with their loss, all rights of recovery against the member and its officers will transfer to the scheme who can pursue the member and any relevant person or entity
2. The consumer also agrees to co-operate with any legal process that we engage in, including providing a witness statement and evidence of the loss
3. If a member has joined more than one approved client money protection scheme, we reserve the right to subrogate any losses, in full or in part, against the other licensed client money protection scheme

As well as holding adequate professional indemnity insurance, we also recommend members purchase adequate employer's liability, public liability, cyber and directors' and officers' insurance to cover the business from losses resulting from an employee or other external factors causing the business to stop trading.

K. Miscellaneous

The following miscellaneous provisions apply:

1. We may need to update these from time to time. We will post notice of any significant changes on our website, in newsletters and by email where the member has provided us with an email address
2. The member agrees to abide by the latest version of these rules
3. We will take appropriate action if we have any concerns about a member's identity, potential fraud or money laundering
4. We cannot be held responsible for events that happen beyond our control which prevent or delay our ability to operate
5. Members should make sure we are added to their list of 'safe' email addresses as we cannot be responsible for any email that ends up in the spam or junk folder, which should be checked regularly so no emails are missed
6. The member agrees to receive newsletters from the scheme informing them of relevant industry activity.

L. How we share information

The scheme, Hamilton Fraser and its insurers may use any information provided by the consumer or member when considering a potential claim, provided it is for the express purpose of dealing with that claim.

We may refuse to provide information to either party if:

- In our reasonable opinion it is not relevant
- In our reasonable opinion, it is inappropriate or illegal
- It concerns issues of personal security for our member
- It is protected by legal or professional privilege (and such privilege has not been waived)

We will always consider specific requests for disclosure.

We will act in line with all General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and all other data protection laws.

We will comply with all relevant General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) and all other data protection legislation. All parties agree (our members and consumers) that we act as a data controller who will need to use the data provided to contact all parties (those concerned) in relation to claims we receive.

The scheme may share data with HFIS plc trading as Hamilton Fraser, who may offer the member additional insurance related products to help the member comply with both the client money protection regulations and these rules. These may include employer's liability, public liability, cyber and directors' and officers' insurance as well as other related products.
